Whose Legacy?

Glasgow 2014 Commonwealth Games Filmscreening and Discussion event

Fri 21st October 2.30pm - 4.30pm, CCA Clubroom, 350 Sauchiehall Street

Part of Documents Film Festival | www.documentfilmfestival.org

A discussion, focusing on media portrayal and the right of residents to 'stay put' in the face of large-scale urban transformation and displacement, will be interspersed with a series of short films that highlight recent experiences on, and nearby, the site of the Commonwealth Games Village.

Short introductory talk by Dr Libby Porter (Urban Planner and Researcher, Glasgow University) and Neil Gray (Writer and Researcher, Glasgow University) about the Legacy of Mega-Events, and large-scale urban regeneration plans in the UK and worldwide.

Followed by a series of live accounts by residents - including carers from the Accord centre, who are campaigning to retain a day care centre for people with learning disabilities, and Margaret Jaconelli, who has recently been evicted from her home. The residents will talk about about the impact the Commonwealth Games development is having upon their lives.
